

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, MAY 19, 1883.

Please bear in mind that the blue pencil mark X on your paper indicates that the time for which you have paid has expired and you are requested to call around and settle.

Messrs. Ferguson & Meek have finished their new shop, and will remove to it next week.

The Frank Steele and Ellis Craft murder cases are being considered by the Court of Appeals.

About a hundred gentlemen from this city attended the Democratic Convention at Louisville this week.

The meeting at the Christian Church was closed Sunday night. There were twelve additions to the Church, four by letter and eight by confession.

At the jug breaking at St. John's A. M. E. Church, in this city, Friday night, about one hundred dollars was realized. About fifty jugs were broken.

Mr. James M. Saffell, of this city, who is at present Grand Captain General of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of the State, will to-day be promoted to Grand Generalissimo.

Dr. Daniel Guber desires all charitably disposed to send all the books and papers they are through with not of an immoral or political nature, to the Penitentiary for the use of the convicts.

The Fannie Freese came up Monday afternoon, having been overhauled and refitted, and is now in better trim than ever. She is again making regular trips between this city and Louisville.

Mrs. H. S. Ellis has purchased the old Sebre property, on Main street, is tearing it away, and will erect a two story brick residence of eight rooms on the lot. The old frame was one of the oldest houses in the city.

Mrs. Annie B. Walcutt is remodeling, refitting and repairing the residence on the corner of Main and Washington streets, recently purchased by her from Col. John L. Scott. When completed it will present a very handsome appearance.

Old Aunt Matilda Jackson, colored, who for the past forty years has owned and resided in the little brick cottage on Broadway, between Washington and Madison streets, died Monday, aged 79 years. She had the respect of all who knew her.

Mr. H. G. Mattern, the Capital Photographer, has greatly increased the capacity of his gallery lately; has employed an assistant, and will shortly begin the making of stereoscopic views of some of the beautiful scenery around this city. His pictures are the best, so don't forget him when you want your photograph taken.

While Mrs. Duane Brown and children were returning home Friday afternoon, from a visit to a neighbor's, in attempting to pass a wagon that had broken down at a narrow place on the road, the carriage in which they were riding was overturned, and the occupants thrown out. The children were unhurt but Mrs. Brown was badly bruised up, and has been confined to bed since.

Lexington has had several large fires in the last few years, and her authorities have never failed to telegraph to this city for help in the shape of a fire engine, which was always promptly sent them. Monday night her neighboring town of Harrodsburg was in flames and applied to her for help, but that great and magnanimous city which longs to be the seat of government turned a deaf ear to her cry and sent nothing. Next time let them send to Frankfort.

In making an excavation on the site of the new Government Building, for the purpose of ascertaining the character of foundation the house will have, solid rock was found at twenty-one feet beneath the surface, and in order to reach it the workman had to go through about twenty feet of hard, yellow clay, which is almost entirely free from sand. It will, therefore, only be necessary to go down about eight feet for as good a foundation as anyone could desire.

M. B. Miller, Louisville, says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters with great success for general debility and dyspepsia."

A ladies fine French kid hand made button shoe for $6, at Marshall & Meagher's.

The trial of Phil. B. Thompson, jr, was concluded at Harrodsburg Wednesday, and resulted in a jury doing just as everyone thought they would—returning a verdict of not guilty. This is another instance where a man who commits a cold blooded and deliberate murder is turned loose without punishment simply because of his position and influence. The remark of our Irish fellow-citizen about trying the devil and holding the court in hell found peculiar application in this case. The judge and jury were both for the accused from the first and the trial was only a waste of time. The only thing omitted was a presentation of a chromo.

Call at Bueckhardt's and get choice beef.

The "Boss" went to Louisville Friday morning and left the editorial department to the compositors. Do not be surprised at the unusual neatness and newness of to-day's paper. So the fighting editor being absent, we are not responsible for anything that appears in this issue; but if you will fight, must fight, and nothing else will do you but fight. "Just meet us in Devil's Hollow." (?)
